

Would You Rather? - Icebreaker

DESCRIPTION: Would You Rather? is a game available in many different forms. This version requires attendees to get up and move and to answer the questions based on where they go in the room, vs. verbally. You then take about 1 minute for people to introduce themselves to one other person that answered the same.

This is a really easy icebreaker as it doesn't take much prep or material and can be done for as long or short as you have time available. It also can be repeated at a future meeting without repeating topics.

SUPPLIES NEEDED:

- 1) A list of "Would You Rather" options (list below)
- 2) Enough space for people to gather in two different spaces of the room
